Overview

This program is for gaming professionals who want to learn how to make the right decisions to maximize the financial results of their slot floor.

Our A to Z approach to slot performance analysis benefits both seasoned professionals looking to broaden their skill sets and those who are relatively new to slots.

The online format is a great combination of lectures, exercises, casework and Q&A. There are also review questions and exercises for participants to complete after each session. People learn by doing, and this approach helps participants get comfortable with the processes being taught so they are able to apply them on the job more quickly.

Workshop Topics

PART 1

Part 1 includes four 2.5-hour sessions and covers:

- Slot Machine Basics
- Financial and Performance Metrics
- Statistics for Slots - Part 1
- Game Math Fundamentals
- Floor Mix Optimization
- Machine & Game Theme Performance Analysis
- Incremental Gain
- Carded Player Data
- Creating a performance/trend classification matrix
- Analyzing Underperforming Machines
- 360 Degree Game Analysis

PART 2

Part 1 is a pre-requisite for Part 2. You can also participate in Part 2 if you took the full version of the Workshop (i.e., the class held any time prior to 2023). Part 2 includes three two-hour sessions and covers:

- Statistics for Slots – Part 2 (sampling, standardized values, confidence intervals)
- Game Math – Part 2 (par sheet deep dive)
- Slot actual to theoretical variance analysis
- Slot floor location analytics
- Advanced topics in performance analysis (trend, location, and performance scoring, game volatility, floor mix issues)
- Advanced casework and data analysis exercises

Class Information

This online program uses Zoom. The class meets at 1 p.m. Eastern time each day.

To provide a richer, more personalized learning environment, we are limiting the number of attendees to no more than 14 in a class.

Participants should have a working knowledge of MS Excel, including inputting/sorting/filtering data and entering formulas and functions. Some familiarity with pivot tables is also helpful. Participants are encouraged to use their web cameras, but camera use isn't mandatory.

There will be homework each evening so participants can practice the skills taught during the class.
